Romans 12:1-2 NIV

Therefore, I urge you, brothers and sisters, in view of God’s mercy, to offer your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing to God—this is your true and proper worship. Do not conform to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will.

The Fifth Sacrament: Anointing of the Sick

“The Sacrament of Anointment of the Sick is for those who are seriously ill, in a weakened or feeble state, of advance age, or near death. It can be given to someone more than once if the person suffers from an ongoing ailment, and the person’s condition worsens. This Sacrament may also be given to someone who is to undergo an operation.”

1 Corinthians 13:4-7

Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. 5 It does not dishonor others, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. 6 Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. 7 It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

Ben-Hur [A Tale of the Christ] (1959)

One of the 15 films listed in the category "Religion" on the Vatican film list.

The grandest of Hollywood's classic biblical epics, William Wyler's Ben-Hur doesn't transcend its genre, with its emphasis on spectacle and melodrama, but it does these things about as well as they could possibly be done.

Hollywood's third adaptation of General Lew Wallace's novel following two silent versions, Ben-Hur holds up better than such productions as The Ten Commandments in part because the biblical subject itself is reverently left in the background and another more appropriate tale is the subject of its melodrama. Though Christ's life is traced from his birth, to his hidden life, to his public ministry, to his passion and death, we never see his face or hear his voice.

Instead, Ben-Hur is a classic revenge epic leavened with a pious message of forgiveness. Charlton Heston stars as Judah Ben-Hur, a Jewish prince whose boyhood friendship with a Roman officer named Messala (Stephen Boyd) turns to enmity over politics and betrayal. (In his autobiography Heston reports that although screenwriter Gore Vidal was let go after trying to imbue a homoerotic subtext into Judah and Messala's relationship, Boyd's performance in early scenes seems to reflect Vidal's influence. At least if that element is there, it's embodied by the pagan Roman villain, not the righteous Jewish hero.)

1959, MGM. Directed by William Wyler. Charlton Heston, Jack Hawkins, Haya Harareet, Stephen Boyd, Hugh Griffith.
